

EARCOS Professional Learning Weekend

Hosted by Hangzhou International School

Strengthening An Inclusive School

October 13-14, 2018

Registration Cost for EARCOS Members: $100

Registration Cost for Non-EARCOS Members: $125

The goal of this workshop is to equip teachers, specialists, and administrators with best practices for strengthening a school's mission for becoming more inclusive of diverse learners. Participants will walk away understanding how to structure interventions, identify goals, and progress monitor to ensure for successful student growth.

Scan QR Code to Register

Or visit www.his-china.org/learn/professional-development

Dr. Jung is Founder of Lead Inclusion, Clinical Professor at San Diego State University, and a consultant to schools worldwide. She provides support to schools in the areas of inclusion, standards-based learning and grading, designing individualized goals and interdisciplinary supports, and measuring progress. Dr. Jung leads the International Inclusive Leadership Program, a professional learning and graduate program for educators in international schools in partnership with San Diego State University. We are excited to gain insight from her wide area of expertise and hope you will join us for this professional development weekend!